

Fully Funded PhD Student Positions in the Faculty of Information at the University of Toronto

The Faculty of Information at the University of Toronto offers fully funded PhD student positions to study with Prof. Sherry S. Yu in the areas of journalism, media representation of diversity, ethnic/diasporic media, and diasporic youth and media practices. We are looking for outstanding students from all over the world to join our diverse network of passionate scholars in Toronto. The Faculty of Information has a unique, vibrant PhD program that studies the intersection of information, technology, people, and communities.

Sherry S. Yu is Associate Professor in the Department of Arts, Culture and Media (UTSC) and the Faculty of Information (UTSG). Her research broadly explores multiculturalism, media, and social integration with special attention to media practices and representation from critical, comparative, and collaborative journalism perspectives. She is the author of Diasporic Media beyond the Diaspora (2018, UBC Press) and the co-editor of Ethnic Media in the Digital Age (2019, Routledge) and The Handbook of Ethnic Media in Canada (2023, McGill-Queens University Press). She has co-authored publications with her graduate students and research assistants including a book chapter in David Oh's edited volume, Mediating the South Korean Other (Kim & Yu, 2022) and a journal article in Journal of Global Diaspora & Media (Yu & Parke, 2023).
